

THE BANKING SYSTEM: HOW BANKS MAKE MONEY

The below illustration demonstrates the way banks make money. This has been their business model for centuries and has kept them very profitable. The wealthy implement strategies that mimic the practices of a bank, however, they themselves are the bank. They use the money that they have in their wealth account as collateral and take out a favorable loan when they make a purchase.

